Dear Mrs. Chiavetta,

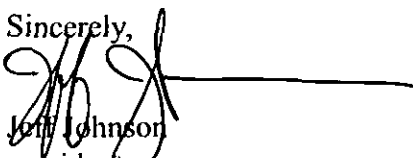

I am responding to a complaint filed against my company for not having the proper insurance in affect. I was a one truck, one driver, operation and I closed down my business. I sold my only truck in October of 2014 and of course I dropped the insurance on that vehicle. I have been out of business since that time and I no longer need the PUC authority that I had.

I have responded to every letter that I have received from the PUC and the Commonwealth on this matter. I have mailed, e-mailed , and even spoke to someone in the insurance compliance office on the phone and told them I am no longer in business and that I no longer am operating under the authority of the PUC and I am trying to get these complaints to come to a stop.

Please let me know what I need to do in order to just get my PUC authority to be dropped without going through all these threatening complaints. When I was operating I followed all the rules and I filed all the necessary documents to remain in compliance. It is not my intention to break any rules or to become the subject of any complaints. I just need to know how to peacefully end my relationship with the PUC.

Thank you for your help in this matter.

Sincerely,

Jeff Johnson
president
